SURGERY SECRETS OF THE STARS

THEN

NOW

BARRY MANILOW

At 73 the crooner can't smile without you... if he can smile at all, thanks to his squirrely new face. "The visible folds in his neck are from an unsuccessful face-lift and need to be corrected," says Natural Look Institute founder Dr. Yoel Shahar, adding that Barry likely had a nose job too. "He also needs to fix the overdone fillers in his cheeks since it gives him a feminine look." Is Barry becoming Mandy?

NOW

MEG RYAN

America's Sweetheart, 54, wrecked her natural charm trying to outrun Father Time. In addition to too much filler in her cheeks and lips, cosmetic surgeon Dr. Josef Hadeed thinks she's gone under the knife, too: "She may have had a face-lift, and the base of her nose does not look as wide as it was." Wonder if her doc is sleepless over the shoddy work.

NOW

ALEXA RAY JOEL

Genetics is basically a lottery. The 30-year-old daughter of Billy Joel and Christie Brinkley seemed to inherit her dad's face, but that didn't mean she was stuck with it. "Her nose is dramatically different and her cheeks are higher and more defined, possibly from fillers," deduces Dr. Shafer. "She looks great!"

BELLA HADID

A few nips and sticks is all that stood between Bella, 20, and a modeling career to rival big sis Gigi. "Bella has a completely different nose, fuller lips and more defined cheeks, which are a sign of fillers," says NYC-based board certified plastic surgeon Dr. David Shafer.

NOW

KIM ZOLCIAK

There's nothing real about this Housewife! The Georgia peach, who says she's 38, is proud of her surgerized lips, breasts and waistline, but oddly refuses to cop to a nose job. But Star has the truth! "Kim has repeatedly denied a nose surgery, but her tip is more refined and turned up, and her nose appears more narrow — makeup can't do that," says Dr. Schulman. "Overall, her nonsurgical facial work likely costs about $25,000 per year. If she did have nose surgery, add another $15,000 to her total bill."

NOW

PRISCILLA PRESLEY

It's a little less talk, a lot more action when the 71-year-old goes to the docs. Plastic surgeon Dr. Michelle Yagoda surmises that an eye lift, brow lift, Botox and way too many fillers have left the King's queen looking "bloated and distorted." Enzymes could dissolve the overdone fillers, but she doesn't seem all shook up about her puppet-like face considering she's looked this way for years!

NOW

DARYL HANNAH

Once the face of the '80s, Daryl can still make a splash — and maybe open her eyes again — if she lets her excessive fillers and Botox wear off, says Dr. Rowe, also surmising that the 55-year-old underwent a face-lift to boot.

NOW

BLAKE LIVELY

Not to be a gossip, but teenage Blake may not have been welcome in the Upper East Side's most exclusive cliques before her makeover. In addition to fixing her teeth, Dr. Yagoda estimates that Blake, 29, has had a nose job and fillers in her upper lip to even out her smile... but that's one secret she'll never tell.

NOW

CARROT TOP

OK, so maybe the Las Vegas magician, 51, never had movie-star looks, but Dr. Shafer thinks cheek fillers and an overly aggressive brow lift — possibly done to help with his hooded eyelids — pushed Carrot Top into freakshow territory.

COURTNEY COX

The Friends actress, 52, may have been blessed with good skin, but her trout mouth and overfilled cheeks have ruined her attractively sharp features, says Dr. Yagoda. Just call it "The One Where She Messed Up Her Face."

NOW

SHARON OSBOURNE

Ozzy's other half went from frumpy to foxy, at 64, thanks to a well-done series of procedures. "I would estimate a face and neck lift, upper and lower eyelid surgery, brow lift, nose reshaping, fillers to the lips and cheeks, and laser resurfacing of her skin," says Dr. Schulman, tallying the total at upwards of $75,000. "She wasn't too aggressive and it turned out very well — she looks great."

NOW

DEMI MOORE

Cheeks droop and flatten over time, so is Demi, 53, a genetic anomaly? Not so much. "Her cheekbones are not only fuller but higher possibly from an implant," explains Dr. Hadeed. "Her chin is also more defined which could be the result of a chin lift or implant."
