MAN VS. BEAST!

JASON'S CRITTER CRACK-UP

Exploding cars, gun-wielding villains and dangerous stunts barely faze Jason Statham... but four paws, a ringed tail and beady eyes? Forget about it!

The British action star had a meltdown when he found himself face-to-face with a raccoon that was stealing fish out of his koi pond.

"Jason spotted a raccoon trying to scoop out a fish, so he went out to shoo it away," rattles a friend close to the Transporter actor.

"It reared up and the hell out of him — he went back into the house screaming."

Jason's fiancée, model Huntington-Whiteley, had a laugh of her own after her beau's brush with nature.

"She called him a big baby and couldn't stop laughing," added the source. "Jason's embarrassed but says he's not going back out there until the place is raccoon free!" ★

ALEC & IRELAND'S DISMAL DAD-DAUGHTER DATE

DINNER DISASTER

Alec Baldwin may bring the laughs on Saturday Night Live, but his recent dinner with daughter Ireland was anything but jolly.

"Someone bumped into their table, and he flipped out, demanding that they apologize," says a patron at celeb hotspot Craig's in L.A. on Jan. 9. "He also snapped, 'Can't you see I'm having dinner with my daughter?' when someone told him they were a big fan."

Ireland tried to get her dad to calm down, but the hot-tempered actor "seemed like he was up for causing a scene."

While the 21-year-old has been blitzing social media trying to launch her modeling career, it was clear this wasn't the kind of spotlight she had in mind.

"She spent most of the time checking her phone and looking like she couldn't wait to get away," reported the witness. "It was hardly a relaxing meal."

SELENA

SURGERY MAKEOVER?

New year, new man... new face? In the wake of her (second) rehab stint and risky new romance with hard-partying rapper The Weeknd, Selena Gomez has undergone a serious overhaul in a bid to sex up her image and her personal life.

"She majorly plumped her lips and smoothed out her under-eye and smile lines with filler," dishes a pal. "Plus she got Kybella in her chin to define her jaw." Star's plastic surgery expert Dr. Michelle R. Yagoda says Selena may have had some more invasive nip-tucks as well: "It also looks like she may have had a nose job. The bridge is narrower and the tip seems less boxy."

While the 24-year-old claimed her recent time out of the spotlight was about looking inward, it seems it was spent looking in the mirror. "The truth is she was more focused on overhauling her appearance than really solving any big internal issues," says the friend. "She's totally caught up in this constant fight for perfection." ★
