

The Beauty Scoop

By Kela • May 4th, 2009 • Category: BEAUTY

There are a lot products out there that promise healthy skin, hair and nails. And while most come in the form of a pill or topical treatment, Beauty Scoop is completely edible. Working from within, the beauty product promises healthy hair, skin and nails in the form of a powder. The vanilla flavored substance, packaged individually, can be mixed into any hot or cold beverage. Best blended with a smoothie, the edible beauty accessory is the first and only doctor-developed and clinically proven mixture that enhances the health and appearance of your natural accessories- hair, skin, and nails.

Results can be seen in as little as three weeks, with 86% of it users reporting improvements in all three areas. Considering that you don't have to remember to pop a pill for beauty's sake, beauty scoop seems pretty simple, proving that outer beauty really does come from within.
