Beauty Scoop®

Beauty Scoop®, known as the edible beauty accessory for youthful skin, lustrous hair & strong nails, offers vitamin packed powders that deliver nutrients and antioxidants to the body to impact beauty from the inside out. The powders may be mixed with liquids to create tasty, vitamin-enriched and healthy beverages. For example, Cinna-Yum Hot Chocolate incorporates dark chocolate, cinnamon, one cup of nonfat milk, plus one packet or one scoop of Beauty Scoop, for a delicious and healthy hot beverage. Other recipes for shakes and smoothies abound, with the basics contained in the powders themselves, which feature all natural, vegetable-based peptide and lipid formulas, no trans fats, no gluten or wheat, and no artificial colors, sweeteners or preservatives.

The powder formula is said to be immediately absorbable for long-lasting results, and a regimen of usage over the course of one month is claimed to result in improvement in nails, hair, and skin. Dr. Michelle Yagoda, a facial plastic surgeon in New York City, and Edward H. Gans, PhD, a chemist, pharmacist and inventor combined their expertise to create BeautyScoop®, a biochemical system designed to boost the body's skin, hair, and nail regenerative power. Claims include improvement in thinning hair, stronger roots, and the addition of luster and shine, plus overall healthier, brighter skin, due to peptides, lipids and vitamins. There is also a new BeautyScoop® formula which contains 20 mg of hyaluronic acid, for stronger, younger skin. BeautyScoop® is produced by Opus Skincare, LLC. Product prices vary, with a 21-day starter supply retailing for $70.
